

Performance Review Policy

Purpose

This policy describes how Harbourline Freight Systems runs performance reviews, how ratings are calibrated, and how promotions are nominated.

Review cycle

Formal performance reviews are conducted twice yearly, in March and September. Each cycle includes a self-assessment, manager assessment and a short calibration discussion. Informal check-ins between an employee and their manager are encouraged throughout the year but do not replace the two formal cycles.

Cycle	Month
First half	March
Second half	September

Rating scale

Reviews use a 1–5 rating scale, where 3 means "meets expectations." A rating of 1 or 2 triggers a support plan agreed between the employee and their manager, while a rating of 4 or 5 is required for an employee to be considered for promotion in that cycle.

Calibration

Ratings are calibrated before release to employees. Each department's ratings are reviewed by a calibration panel of 3 department heads, who compare ratings across teams to ensure consistent standards before a manager finalises and shares the result with their report.

Promotion nominations

Managers nominate employees for promotion alongside each review cycle. Nominations close on 14 February for the March cycle and on 14 August for the September cycle. Late nominations are held over to the following cycle.
